Capital Letter Formation - capital letters all start at the top. You sometimes need to lift your pencil off the page in the middle of a letter when writing capitals.

Lower Case Letter Formation - all lower case letters are formed with one continuous movement (the pen stays on the page) except letters with cross bars or dots eg t j. Cross bars are formed from left to right.
